1. Military commissions are now arranging a harsh "control" over Rumanian reserve officers. Any Rumanian reserve officer is now liable to be called before military investigators three times in succession, and has to submit to interrogation. During the course of this investigation, each officer investigated has to deposit his labor card with the military commission.
2. Retired military men, living in the cities, are to receive a pension of 150 lei a month, under a new decision of the government. Those living in rural centers are to be cut down to 110 lei. To understand the real value of this money, one should know the average rent for a workman in a state apartment is 60 lei a month.
3. A plan is now being discussed looking to the use of individuals, who do not cooperate with the regime, in labor brigades under military command. All those who have no specific job will be put into this new army for a period of labor.
